

Election 2017

A municipality is the “front-line” level of government. The elected council is the governing body of the municipality and make decisions by passing resolutions, setting policies or enacting bylaws. Bylaws are the laws of the municipality.

If elected as a member of council, you will have the opportunity to shape the future of your municipality.

Being elected to your local council means a big time commitment on your part. It's important not to underestimate the amount of time and dedication required to be an effective member of council, especially if you have a full-time job as well.

If elected, you will serve a four-year term. During that time you should plan to attend the following:

Regular and special council meetings;
Meetings of council committees;
Meetings of other boards and agencies as a representative of council;
Conferences, seminars, workshops, and conventions for training and discussion; and Events that promote or represent your municipality.
